Hello

.i

Hello and welcome to Monachyle Mhor Hotel.

We hope you enjoy your stay with us and are delighted that you have chosen to spend some time here.

The Lewis family has lived here since 1983. My parents, Rob and Jean Lewis, sold their farm in Abergavenny on a whim. Rob had always wanted a "dog and whistle" farm and signed for Monachyle on the back of a cigarette packet.

My mother lost her sight just before I was conceived. She then went on to have 2 further children – Dick and Melanie. When we had been here for a couple of years, Dick announced that he wanted a bicycle and so a sign was erected at the bottom of the drive - "Tea & Scones; Walkers Welcome". The bicycle came quite quickly. Then mother fancied a British Racing Green 4 door Aga so the sign evolved into "Tea & Scones, Soup & Sandwiches; Walkers Welcome". The Aga was soon afforded and we both cooked on it for the restaurant for many years.

The farmhouse evolved into a B & B, then evening meals were offered with which Jean was always willing to supply a carafe of wine or 2 - despite the fact that there was no licence. Someone took exception to this, phoned the council and a license was duly applied for.

My mum had grown up in a hotel so knew what she had to do and in due course Rob became an excellent waiter and wine connoisseur. They were a very unique duo breaking all of the rules to make an 18th century farmhouse, six miles down a single track road, work. They operated well together with Dad tending the land and animals by day and Mum not letting her lack of sight prevent her doing anything... even including driving a pick-up truck down the glen road using 10 year old Dick as her eyes while she operated the gears and pedals. Somehow it seemed to be acceptable in the 80's!

The hotel now has 16 individually - styled bedrooms and 3 unique glamping experiences: a cabin, a wagon and a multi-storey pod in the trees.

Monachyle Mhor is still very much a family affair. I work with my wife and my brother and it's my sister Melanie's art that adorns the walls. We are still a working farm and have black-faced ewes, cattle, Tamworth pigs and chickens. The free-range eggs for your breakfast are laid just a few feet away.

We hope your stay with us is relaxing and memorable and, if there is anything you need, please don't hesitate to contact Reception – we are available any time of day.

Kindest regards

Tom Lewis

Walks

.v

There are many lovely walks around this area; here are a few we recommend:

MANSE ROCK/ CREAG AN TUIRC – BALQUHIDDER

To appreciate the magnificent Braes O’Balquhidder and to get a lovely view, it’s worth the short walk to the top of the Manse Rock, or Creag an Tuirc (Rock of the Boar). The Church of Balquhidder, built in 1855, by passing Rob Roy’s last resting place, is the start of the walk, you can park here. There are paths either side of Balquhidder Church, which join together and lead up through the forest of Kirkton Glen. Take the path to the left of the Church which leads up to a small waterfall.

KIRKTON PASS – BALQUHIDDER

At Balquhidder Church follow the route until you reach the public water supply enclosure. Go straight on, ignoring all the junctions to the left or right. Soon the rocky face of Creag an Eireannaich (Rock of the Irishmen) comes into view ahead. Continue on, and you will see a small path signed Glen Dochart Path. This zig zags up the crags, soon reaching a lovely lochan, which was originally stocked with American Brook Trout carried up there in panniers on ponies. To descend into Glen Dochart go through a fence and gate close to the lochan and follow the steep path ahead with good views of Ben More and Stob Binnean. The path becomes faint in places. Angle down to Ledcharrie Burn and descend alongside it. It passes through a gap in a fence and under a disused railway bridge to join the main road at Ledcharrie Farm. OS sheet 51, 7 miles (a through route requiring a car at Ledcharrie for the return to Balquhidder).

BEN SHEAN – STRATHYRE

Start at the car park on the south side of the village of Strathyre. Take the Forest Enterprise signed footpath over the bridge and up to the tarred road. 100m past the village school, turn left onto the hill footpath. Climb quite steeply through tall conifers for 300m to a forestry road. Turn right and walk 50m. (This path is presently being reconstructed, so some care is required in places).

Loch Lubnaig lies beneath like a mirror, framed on the south west by Arnandave hill. Continue over the small hill burn and turn right up the hillside path. This is not as broad as the forestry track, but it is still very visible as it follows the burn up on to the open hill and in turn climbs very steeply on to the first rugged knoll. Most people stop here as the views are outstanding and it is most definitely the picnic spot. Strathyre Village is dotted below and the River Balvaig twists up into Balquhidder glen. Go west and descend gradually for 100m to the stile over the boundary fence. Follow the path north over boggy ground. It will then rise over another knoll and the next ascent brings you up to the summit of Beinn ant Sidhein (Ben Shean). Return by the outward walk.

BEN LAWERS - CENTRAL SCOTLAND

Owned by the National Trust for Scotland. Terrain includes mountain grassland, alpine cliffs, newly planted native woodland and mountain scrub. Amongst the many plants, bird and animal life to be seen are the Alpine Lady's mantle, Moss Campion, Purple Saxifrage, Alpine Mouse-ear, Bristle sedge, Alpine Woodsia and Alpine Forget Me Not. Bird song rings out from the lovely Skylarks, Meadow Pipit, Curlew, Twite, Stonechat. Also to be seen are red grouse, golden plover, red deer and mountain hare, and perhaps a lizard sunning himself on the rocks. Butterflies love the Ben Lawers range and include the Mountain Ringlet and Small Heath.

There is a lovely drive if you continue over the Ben Lawlers range into Glen Lyon. The longest, loneliest, loveliest glen in Scotland. Here you'll find a pretty tea room by the river and the road then takes you to Fortingall where, by the church, you can visit the oldest yew tree in the world. At the end of this road, turning left will lead you to Aberfeldy while right will head you back along Loch Tay-side to Killin.

CYCLE ROUTE 7

The Cycle Route 7 has recently been upgraded and the route runs by Mhor 84. There are some great walks along the track, either up Glen Ogle, where the General Wade bridges and the old railway viaduct make for an interesting journey, or south where the track takes you to Strathyre Village and beyond to Callander.

Mhor Farm

.vii

The Lewis family come from a long line of farmers - it was one of our ancestors who took the Hereford cow to the Americas. We have been farming here at Monachyle for over 30 years - Dick Lewis takes charge of the day to day operations of the farm alongside his son Angus.

We have Highland Cattle which we have started to cross breed with a Simmental Bull. There are 500 Black-faced Ewes. The pigs are a mix of Tamworth, Landrace and Large Blacks, with meat from the farm and wild venison from the surrounding hills being supplied to all the Mhor businesses. Our chickens lay the hotel's eggs for breakfast.

Game and deer-stalking packages may be arranged through the hotel and fishing permits can be bought at Monachyle Mhor Hotel and Mhor 84.
